corrections.

NEW BUSINESS

The resolution to the State Board of Education was brought up for discussion. The Board felt that it was now time to petition the State Board of Education for transfer of the Extension Unit to an independent Institution or from a contract to a chartered institution. The Board felt that this was a sound move and that we should go ahead and petition the State Board of Education, the Advisory Budget Commission, and the Governor for the approval of this matter, and our tentative plans are now to go to the people with a vote for capital outlay and for a tax levy to maintain the operation of the Institution. Mr. Matthews made the motion to do this, Mr. Ellis seconded, and the motion carried unanimously. It was also recommended that the Secretary of the Board of Trustees write a letter stating the position of the Board to the State Board of Education.

The Group Insurance, hospitalization plan, was explained by Mr. Gold and the Board members asked several questions, followed by a general discussion. Mr. John Schenck, III made a motion that we approve this hospital plan for the School and Mr. C. G. Poston seconded the motion. The Board unanimously approved the motion.

OLD BUSINESS

The Adult Basic Education Budget was explained in detail. After discussing the budget, Mr. Cecil Gilliatt made a motion to accept the budget as presented, Mr. Harry Matthews seconded the motion and it was approved by the Board.

The Special Accounts including the Bookstore, Self-supporting Class Fees, Adult Basic Education Funds, Janitor Salary, and Student Activity Fees were discussed by the Board. All of these accounts will be placed under a special account and will be administered under this special account. After some discussion the Board felt that this was the soundest way to handle the different accounts. Mr. C. G. Poston made a motion that we accept this recommendation from the President James Petty; Mr. J. D. Ellis seconded the motion and it was approved.

The County Home Property was again discussed by the Board as a possible site for the permanent location for Cleveland County Technical Institute. A report by the County Commissioners was given. The County Commissioners feel at this time that the Institution could seek further to find land with more acreage, but Mr. Joe Hendrick, reporting for the Commissioners, also made the statement that the Institution could use the property or any of the buildings for any use at this time. The Board felt that this acreage would be too small for the Institution. After hearing Mr. Hendrick's report, a committee was appointed by the Chairman, Mr. J. E. Herndon, Jr. for a planning committee. This committee consists of Mr. J. D. Ellis, Mr. Spurgeon Hewitt, Mr. John Schenck, III, Mr. Joe Hendrick, and Mr. James Petty. This committee was to study in detail the requirements and bring back to the Board the detailed plans for getting ready for the bond issue in the spring of 1969 and for finding a suitable site for the Institution.

These questions were submitted by the State Board of Education and have been answered as follows:

SURVEY FOR CHANGE TO CHARTER STATUS

1. What advantage will come from the appointment, by the Governor, of four additional trustees from the County or contiguous counties?

Answer:

The addition of four trustees from the County will give wider representation and broaden the effectiveness of the institution in planning a comprehensive program to effectively meet the needs of the adult population.

The institution would be able to more effectively relate to industry with additional trustees.

With the continued growth of the institution the addition of new board members will be an asset in telling the story of the Cleveland County Technical Institute to the people in Cleveland County.

2. In securing local financial support and in any other way in providing needed educational services, what disadvantages now exist that can be traced to the lack of independence from the local sponsoring board of education? Also, what disadvantages does the local sponsoring board of education find in the existing relationship? Do these disadvantages outweigh any advantages that may now exist?

Answer:

Based on more than three years experience it has been found that, while an excellent working relationship has existed between the Institute and the Shelby Administrative Unit, a measure of difficulty has existed due to the awkward arrangement pertaining to local funds. These disadvantages are revealed in the necessity for two sets of records for difficulty in taking discounts on payments, and related matters.

There is an obvious disadvantage in securing local support in the requirement for three boards' approval of budgets. A recurring possibility of the conflict between them to the detriment of the educational program will continue to exist under the present arrangement.

3. What advantage will come from having the voters of the administrative area approve the local financial support required?

Answer:

Approval of required local support by the people of Cleveland County would enable the Institute to develop long range plans. Approval would also provide for the growth and development of the institution.

Specifically, it would show approval and support of the educational objectives of the Institute. The County Commissioners levying taxes for the Institute could do so knowing that they acted within the will of the people.

With a continuing tax levy, growth and development of the Institute would be assured since this would be the true measure of the citizens' desire that its money be invested in this educational institution.

4. What local financial support is anticipated beyond the level of local support now provided, including the necessary facilities?

Answer:

The Trustees of the Institute are presently planning to ask the voters of Cleveland County to approve a permanent tax levy up to five cents per hundred dollars valuation for current expense. It is not felt that a levy this large would be necessary at the present time, but would leave room for growth. Local current expense money is now approximately one cent per hundred dollars. A bond issue of $850,000 is felt to be necessary for capital outlay. Construction costs will be financed from local and other sources.

5. What evidence is there that the local support required can be afforded without hurting the local support of the public schools?

Answer:

The County is in excellent financial condition. As of June 30, 1968 the County owes approximately $4,000,000 in bonded indebtedness. The taxable property in the County is $250,000,000.

The Trustees of the Institute and the local school boards are cooperatively planning a tax levy and bond issue program for the total educational needs of the County. Supporting statements for Cleveland County Technical Institute have been made by the Boards of Education and County Commissioners. A number of civic organizations have made statements of support for the Institute also.
